[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JULY 1.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Financial and Other Matters.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The several States having claims against the General Government, growing out of the war, were busily engaged yesterday and to-day, through their agents, in pushing their claims in the office of Comptroller Brodhead in the Treasury Department to the end that they might get them audited before exhaustion of the money, as the act making appropriation for their payment expires on the 30th inst. No claims of States for reimbursements for war expenses on account of the General Government can be paid without application to Congress for that purpose. The act of July 12th, 1870, repeals the general appropriation act of 1861.

Hon. Nathan Sargent, ex-Commissioner of Customs has been appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury to visit the principal customs ports of this country and consult with the most experienced customs officers in regard to an amended and more homogenous revenue code which is in course of preparation in the Treasury Department to be submitted to Congress next session for adoption.

Customs receipts for the fiscal year were $204,457,991, against $191,985,952 in the previous fiscal year. During six months of the year, from January 1st to June 30th, since which date the reduced tariff law has been in operation, collections were $14,963,886, against $96,655,751 collected during the corresponding six months of the previous fiscal year, showing an increase of customs receipts under the reduced tariff law of $5,308,135.

Frederick Watts Fean has accepted the appointment of Commissioner of Agriculture.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The monthly statement of the public debt shows a reduction of $710,334,99 for the month of June.

Civil service commission met at noon. An inquiry into the examination of the Department at Washington was ordered. Many removals and changes in various bureaus in the Interior Department have been made and a good many more will be made in the course of the next few days—especially in the Pension and Land offices. Some fifty removals have occurred in the Land Office since the change in Commissioners.

The Affair at Corea.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—It is said in official circles that Minister Low is with Admiral Rogers at Corea. It is in accordance with instructions, as the design of the expedition was to open the way for treaty with the sovereign of that country. Shipwrecked Americans on that coast are being subjected to extreme cruel treatment. Although it is not known whether this Government anticipated hostilities, it seems certain the conduct of Admiral Rogers in the circumstances is approved.

EASTERN STATES.

Dispatch from New York.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The Inspector of the Board of Health is apprehensive of a spread of smallpox, which is now prevalent in some parts of the city, unless physicians and citizens supplement the sanitary precautions of the Board. More than 1,300 cases have been discovered by health officers during the past six months, and they believe as many more have not been reported.

Fears are entertained of trouble between Irish Catholics and Orangemen at the approaching celebration of the National holiday. The Superintendent of Police has taken measures to prevent trouble.

Gen. Laurence, defaulting Pension Agent, has been heard from in Texas.

Mrs. Lydia Sherman was arrested at New Brunswick, N. J., yesterday, by officers from Connecticut, on the charge of having poisoned, at different times, three step children. Proof is said to be strong.

A banquet was given by the Anglo-American Association on Thursday. Among Americans present were William E. Dodge, Bishop McIlvain, Messrs. Wilson and McCulloch, and Generals Smith, Palfrey, Hoar, &c. Friendly speeches were made.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Dispatches from London.

LONDON, June 30.—The statement is officially confirmed that the Washington treaty has been ratified. Canadian ports will soon cease to be honored by the British North American fleet in Canadian waters.

At a meeting of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce to-day, resolutions were unanimously adopted to the following effect:

WHEREAS, The Liverpool Chamber of Commerce has learned with surprise that high cable rates are sustained when all Atlantic cables are working; therefore,

Resolved, That officers of this body be authorized and directed to make representations in the matter to the Government, and to ask aid from the Chambers of Commerce of Manchester, Birmingham, Leeds, Sheffield, Glasgow and Edinburgh.

The German attempt to excite dissatisfaction in Heligoland has failed.

Howard, Secretary of the British Legation at Washington, is appointed agent to receive claims of British subjects coming within articles 12 to 17 of the Washington treaty.

Affairs in France.

LONDON, July 1.—Papers discuss the elections, which are favorable to the Government of Thiers and the Republic.

PARIS, July 1.—The return of the monarchists is probable in the Departments. The Imperialists are active, but have no chances.

The Bank of France publishes the returns of bullion at fifty million francs. Treasury balance, one hundred and forty millions.

The official journal says there were at Longchamps 150 battalions of infantry, 60 squadrons of cavalry, 20 companies of engineers, and 360 pieces of cannon.

The Orleans Princes were with Thiers to-day.

Mr. Seward at Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 1.—Hon. William H. Seward has arrived.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—J. A. Mahoed leaves here for Victoria on the steamer Prince Alfred on Monday to commence the exploration of a route from British Columbia to Canada for the projected British Colonial railway.

Sam Brannan has arranged to have a party fire large rockets from the top of Mount St. Helena, 5,000 feet above the level of the sea, on the evening of the Fourth of July. It is believed they can be seen as far as San Francisco.

New York gold, stocks and cotton Boards, closed to-day until Wednesday next. The Grain Board will remain open.

The grand distribution of prizes of half a million dollars by the California Emigrant Aid Society, at Sacramento, will probably be postponed until September 15th. Contrary to general expectation, the sale of tickets has been sufficient to insure the drawing coming off.

There were forty-nine deaths in San Francisco last week.

In the case of Mrs. Fair, a motion to re-open the motion for a new trial on affidavits formerly submitted, and some new ones of the same general character, is again before the Fifteenth District Court, and being argued this afternoon. The decision will probably turn, not upon the merits of the case as now presented, but on the question of the power of the Court to review its own decisions. It is expected that the motion will be denied, and the new affidavits will then be submitted together with the rest to the Supreme Court.

The steamer China sailed for Hongkong at noon to-day with $389,000 in treasure and merchandise to the value of $93,000, including 2,200 barrels flour, 700 centals barley, 500 flasks quicksilver and a quanity of eastern and foreign manufactures.

Simon Harris, a merchant on Natoma street, was killed by being thrown from a horse to-day.

Alexander Denny dropped dead on Third street to-day.

Great preparations are being made for the reception and serenade of Newton Booth on his arrival from Sacramento this evening.

The police are making energetic efforts to break up the illegal sailor boarding house runner nuisance. Several runners have been arrested to-day for boarding vessels without permission.

Judge Dwinelle refused to second the motion for a new trial in Mrs. Fair's case this evening. He was then urged by her counsel to sign a recommendation to the Supreme Court to grant one, which he declined doing, saying that it would be absurd for him to recommend a higher court to do what he had refused to do himself on the same affidavits. Notice of appeal was then made.

The celebration of the Fourth of July commenced quite spiritedly this evening. The air is ablaze with rockets.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

A Murderer Killed.

LOS ANGELES, June 29.—Last January the two Bilderbeck brothers were murdered in a canyon near this city, it was supposed, by Allenson Gardner, Al. Henry and a notorious character known as Buckskin Bill. Gardner was shortly afterwards arrested, and is now in jail. Search after Buckskin Bill and Henry was unsuccessful until now. From information received here, Sheriff Burns started for Lower California, procured the necessary papers from the Governor of that province, and after weeks of search the pursuers came within ten feet of Buckskin Bill before he was aware of their presence. Buckskin Bill grabbed one of the men's guns, which went off and the ball entered Buckskin's left side below the heart. He died in two hours. He made a lengthy confession of the murder. He stated that he, Al. Henry and Gardner murdered and buried the Bilderbeck brothers, but that Gardner did the shooting. Henry accompanied Buckskin in his flight, but is now missing. There is no doubt Buckskin Bill killed him to get rid of a witness.

Races at Stockton.

STOCKTON, July 1.—Attendance at the San Joaquin valley race course to-day was quite large. The race was a pacing race, mile heats, best three in five; entries, Billy Mayo and Defiance, for a purse of $500; entrance, ten per cent. The race and purse were won by Billy Mayo, in three straight heats; time, 2:25, 2:27¼ and 2:27½.

A small weekly paper, styled the Stocktonian, made its first appearance to-day.

The Sutter Creek "War."

SUTTER CREEK, June 30.—Several attempts were made to-day to cut the ditch leading to the engine at Oneida mine, parties proposing thereby to burst the boilers. Although chased they succeeded in making their escape.

A Corporal stationed at Oneida mine, while returning late last night, was chased nearly a mile by several armed men, they only retiring when near camp.

A salute of 13 guns was fired at noon at Camp Colton on raising a new flag there.

The league is in secret session to night again.

Stage Robbery near Eureka.

EUREKA, June 29.—At 11 o'clock last night the stage of Woodruff & Ennor, en route from Palisade to Eureka and Hamilton, was robbed two miles south of Mineral Hill. The robbers were only two in number, and both well armed and disguised to some extent. There were eleven passengers in and on the coach. The stage was stopped while ascending a hill, and the driver ordered to throw down the treasure box, which he did. The attention of the road agents was next turned to the passengers, who were taken to the front of the lead horses where they were ordered to strip their boots and coats, when their hands were tied and the robbers then examined them for their money and valuables. They got about $800 in all, while one of the passengers had that amount in a vest pocket, which was ... covered. The driver was ordered to go to the next station without stopping, which he did. There was $1,100 in a trunk on the boot, which arrived here safely. It is thought by the driver and passengers that the robbers were residents of Mineral Hill. Wells, Fargo & Co.'s box was brought into town this afternoon by an extra stage, which found it where the robbery took place.

A Mockery of Justice.

A JUDGE HOLDS THAT A WANTON AND MALICIOUS ATTEMPT TO KILL IS NO CRIME.

We have never yet heard of the sane person who expressed the opinion that Watkinds would receive any punishment for his cowardly and murderous attack on the editor of this paper, and Mr. Clarke shared the general expectation. The result disappoints no one, for the cowardly assassin—kept for the uses of the Salem Ring, and who did its bidding on the 11th of June, as he has done it before—goes unwhipped of justice, and not only so but is entitled to promotion at the hands of his distinguished patrons.

From the hour when Watkinds his did best to kill Mr. Clarke all the agents and influences of the ring have been engaged manipulating the case and spending money where it could be used to advantage. The first day they sent for the Prosecuting Attorney, a young man not over blessed with mind, who lives in Polk county; and Governor Grover and John F. Miller were closeted with him three hours. The Grand Jury obeyed instructions, as Judge Thayer kindly informed us, and brought an indictment simply for "assault with a dangerous weapon," when the evidence was positive and conclusive that having attacked Mr. Clarke from ambush and been successfully resisted, he drew a revolver and after resistance had ceased fired four balls at him, of which struck him in the back causing injury to the spine that results in paralysis, which exists at the present time. It is only due to the providential fact that the bullet was deadened by grazing the edge of a roll of oil cloth, that he did not kill its victim. With these facts manifested, and the hole made by the bullet visible in Mr. Clarke's clothing under the process of manipulation referred to, the Grand Jury could not find a bill for assault with intent to kill, though we have reason to believe that a majority of them wished to do so.

On this indictment Watkinds was yesterday arraigned, and with the same cowardly instinct that led him to try to be an assassin he plead "guilty" and was let off with a fine of $200, which is more than we expected, as it is not the lowest sum named in the Statute. The Judge had the courtesy to have Mr. Clarke sent for and heard his account of the affray in the blandest and pleasantest manner. He owned that the Grand Jury had acted under his instructions, reviewed their account of the testimony, by which it was shown that when Watkinds, who weighs nearly 200 pounds, jumped on Clarke, who weighs, when in winter clothes, 123 pounds, he was immediately disarmed and thrown on the defensive, when he drew his pistol and began to shoot after the other struggle had entirely ceased. As near as we could make out by the Judge's story, Clarke and his pocket knife drove Watkinds and his rawhide and revolver out into this street, which is so satisfactory to us as a judicial decision of the matter that we beg to be excused for putting it on record. His Honor proceeded to sentence Watkinds with the utmost gentleness. He complimented him on having always been industrious, spent some minutes in lauding his regard for county finances, manifested by the plea of guilty, when otherwise the trial would have lasted for days and at the cost of hundreds of hundreds of dollars for the county. This the Court dwelt upon as an extenuating circumstance, and used it as such to place his fine at the small figure of two hundred dollars. To soften the infliction, however, and give the unhappy convict as nearly that money's worth as possible, the Judge threw in some stern remarks about the scurrility of the press, the general tenor of which went to show that editors are more to blame than assassins.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Italian Ministry in Rome.

ROME, July 1.—All the Italian Ministers have arrived in Rome and been installed in their ministry. The representatives of Portugal, Greece, Brazil, Switzerland and Bavaria have arrived in the city. Other Ambassadors are expected to-morrow.

The Insurrection in Algiers.

VERSAILLES, July 1.—In the Assembly to-day Favre denied that the property of the insurgents in Algeria had been confiscated. He admitted that several districts are still in the hands of the insurgents, but said reinforcements were coming forward and the insurrection would soon be suppressed.

Austrian Affairs.

VIENNA, July 1.—The Austrian Chambers have passed the budget.

Count Von Beust made a speech in the Reichrath to-day to the effect that the relations of the Empire with all foreign nations are friendly.

Dispatch from Hanover.

HANOVER, July 1.—The troops made a brilliant triumphal entry into this city to-day. A dispatch was received from Emperor Wilhelm regretting his absence.

EASTERN STATES.

Statue of Washington Irving.

NEW YORK, July 1.—A large bronze bust of Washington Irving was unveiled in Prospect Park, Brooklyn, to-day, in presence of over 15,000 persons. The oration was delivered by Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Some days since the steamer Idaho was dispatched to the southern coast to tow up the steamer California, which had become disabled by breaking her shaft. Last night the California worked her way into Santa Cruz under sail. The Idaho is towing the California carried away her propeller. The John L. Stephens was dispatched from here to tow up the Idaho and the California.

It remains foggy and dark, and prospects are very unfavorable for the letting off of fireworks. The celebration will, however, undoubtedly be an immense one, and the procession the most attractive ever seen here.

Mr. Norrige, a rancher in Alameda county who had maintained numerous and extensive ejectment suits against the settlers for years, was fired at yesterday, some forty bullets whistling around him, killing the horse under him and riddling his clothing without doing him any injury.

Man Killed.

PACHECO, July 2.—A Spaniard was shot in Maraga valley this morning and is now dying. It appears that a Mexican claims some land from the Maraga family and has been trying for the past ten days to obtain possession by force, having brought up men from the city and armed them with rifles and pistols. Two Maraga girls, with their brother, have been guarding the premises day and night, repulsing Yoakum in his attempt to gain possession. A warrant is in the possession of the Sheriff now for Yoakum on a charge of assaulting one of the girls, he having struck her with a crowbar, and yesterday cut her head open with the stock of a gun. The Spaniard who is shot, had just finished putting up a fence where Yoakum's men had torn it down, when one of Yoakum's men shot at him. On the part of Yoakum, it is claimed that the Spaniard shot first.

CURRENT NOTES.

Robert T. Lincoln is to read the emancipation proclamation, issued by his father, at Aurora, Ill., on the Fourth of July.

There are 4,123 Sunday schools in New York State, with a membership of 476,347. The Methodists lead all other denominations, having 1,201 schools, with 123,001 scholars. The Presbyterians come next, with 622 schools and 95,345 scholars.

The Lynchburg (Va.) Republican says: Lynchburg boasts of a sun dial which was made in London in the year 1428, and which, consequently, is now 443 years old, and which, when Columbus crossed the ocean blue and planted his standard on American soil, enjoyed the ripe old age of 64 years. The age of this venerable noter of the sun's course appears to be unquestioned, and it is, doubtless, the oldest specimen of man's handiwork which this country can furnish.

In the State of Wisconsin there are probably not fewer than twenty-thousand women at work in the field. They are not only Germans, Irish and Scandinavians, but Yankees; not only the poor, but thousands of the fair and intelligent class. When the pinch comes, it is common for girls to hang up the rolling-pin, shut up the piano, and go to the field and help their fathers. They ride a reaper as skillfully as any man; they rake and bind dexterously; they direct the cultivator; they run the threshing machine; they pitch the bundles; in extreme need, they can give their arms and ingenuity to that bucolic architecture, building the load and stack. A blue eyed girl in the central part of the State, last year sheared forty sheep in a day and received $4 for it. A hundred thousand Western women are working in the field this season.

A Cincinnati dispatch of June 18th gives a detailed account of how Vallandigham received his death wound. It appears that with his assistant counsel he had been out Friday evening experimenting, with a view of ascertaining how near the muzzle of a pistol could be held to cloth with but burning it. The test was made, and they were returning, two balls having been fired from the pistol. Milliken, associate counsel, urged him to discharge the remaining three balls, but Vallandigham said "No, never mind;" and though Milliken repeated the suggestion, Vallandigham declined to discharge them, and took the pistol upstairs and laid it beside an empty one which he intended to use in the argument on Saturday. This led to the tragedy which soon followed. The Enquirer (Dem.) pronounces his loss to the Democratic party almost irreparable.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Passengers by the Enterprise from the Mainland speak glowingly of the prospects of the farmers. Crops of every description look beautiful and the prospects for a large yield are very good.

The first flag of the Dominion which has reached this coast came in the possession Dr. Powell, on the 16th inst. It is the Blue Ensign, or Flag of the Dominion Navy. LATEST.

9 P. M.—Nothing unusual has occurred this evening, and the town is quiet. The Governor and General Barnes have been playing seven-up for drinks for the crowd. Barnes beat by turning jack, and the Governor paid the bill out of the Contingent Fund. The mines are nearly full of water, but no pumping will be done to-morrow, as the Governor believes it illegal under the provisions of the Sunday law to pump on the Sabbath. The troops are very weary from packing their canteens, and have emptied them to lighten their loads. Many of them appear to be sunstruck, and stagger wildly from one side to the other of the road. The only casualty thus far has been the choking of Sergeant Blinks with a chicken bone, but the obstruction was removed by Dr. McGinnis, who was sent for, by making an incision under his left ear. Blinks is better. General Barnes was threatened with an "emergency" this afternoon, but is now out of danger. There is no knowing what horrors Monday may bring forth.

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, JULY 3, 1871.

"Offense's Hand Shoves by Justice."

It is held by judicial authority at Salem that a deliberate, premeditated and malicious attempt to kill is no crime. This is the doctrine on which Watkinds is acquitted. Of course it is necessary that the man who makes an attempt to kill and expects to get clear should be a member of the "Ring" of which the Executive of the State is chief. Then the killer has no trouble. He can arm himself with a rawhide and revolver, attack the object of his hatred and attempt to whip him, and failing to do that to his satisfaction he can pull out his revolver and empty it at his intended victim, who escapes death only by a miracle, but receives severe injuries; and then through the influence of the Judge, the Prosecuting Attorney, the Executive of the State and other prominent members of the Ring, he can get off by paying a fire of two hundred dollars in greenbacks, which severe penalty, however, is mitigated by some encomiastic remarks addressed by the Judge to the accused, and by some very bitter censure from the same dignitary of the man whom the accused tried to kill. This is the course of justice in Salem, as manipulated by the Ring.

This perversion of justice, effected through the influence of men in high places, is so atrocious that it ought alarm every person in the State. When justice is thus prostituted by those appointed to administer it, it is surely time for every man who believes that criminals of high and low degree should alike receive proportionable punishment, to take the alarm. Watkinds was guilty of a premeditated and deadly assault. He had murder in his heart, and did his best to execute his murderous intentions. Nothing but the fact that the force of one of the balls that he fired was checked by passing through some object that it happened to strike before it hit Mr. Clarke, prevented the instant death of the latter. As it is, he is severely injured. Thus, with an assassin's intent Watkinds made an attack on an unarmed man, and nothing but the merest chance averted the death of his victim. But this in the eyes of the Executive ring, (when perpetrated by one of their own number), is no offense, and they order the officers of their Court to let their man off without punishment. To be consistent they should now arraign Mr. Clarke for having dared to defend himself when the murderous attack was made upon him.

The law makes such an act as that perpetrated by Watkinds a felony, and prescribes a severe penalty. If it was a felony why was he let off with a paltry fine of $200? If it was not a felony,—if Watkinds was excusable—why was he not dismissed without the fine? There is something so atrocious in this perversion of the ends of justice that the transaction is well calculated to excite within the mind of every honest man the deepest indignation.

Of course the Executive will be consistent in his line of conduct and continue Watkinds in his position as Superintendent of the Penitentiary. Inasmuch as the Ring has connived at the greater outrage of an attempt to kill, it will have no hesitation in outraging the public by keeping the would-be assassin in his official position. At the same time it is the general verdict that the recent murderous act of the Superintendent is far more criminal in its character than four-fifths of the felonies now being expiated within the prison walls. And further, nine-tenths of the people of Oregon, without distinction of party, take leave to doubt whether a man who hunts a quarrel and tries to kill another, is just the man to be placed over criminals, in the capacity of Superintendent of the chief penal institution of the State.

A "Quidnunc" Answered.

A correspondent of the Herald who signs himself Quid Nunc offers the following through that paper:

> The Republicans in their Convention, and through their press, glorify over their successful management of the financial affairs of the Government, in paying some two hundred millions of dollars of the national debt. The other part of the story they say "nary word about;" that is, that since the war closed they have manifested the extraordinary power and prestige of the party and wonderful skill, ability and genius of its eminent statesmen and politicians in devising the ways and means to draw from the people the little sum of two thousand five hundred millions of dollars to make the little payment with. They don't tell us, nor do they boast of the manner in which they have disposed of the other little two thousand three hundred millions that is left of the sum collected, after making the two hundred million payment.

The quidnunc of the Herald is about an average Democratic writer. He mixes one grain of truth with several bushels of falsehood, and shows the Democratic inaptitude for separating them. Let us examine the above for a moment.

He says that since the close of the war the sum of two thousand five hundred millions has been drained from the people; yet only two hundred millions have been paid on the national debt. The truth is, over two hundred millions have been paid during the last two years. And during the preceding four years nearly three hundred millions were paid. To make this plainer, the debt at the close of the war amounted to within a fraction of $2,800,000,000. It now amounts to less than $2,300,000,000. Total actual reduction since the close of the war, nearly $500,000,000. But quidnunc and the Herald will want to know what has become of the other two thousand millions. Nearly half of it has been paid out during the last six years as interest on the public debt. Two hundred millions more has been paid for pensions. Deduct these sums, and we have left but a moderate amount with which to pay the regular expenses of the Government during the span of six years. Apart from interest, pensions, and other expenses growing directly out of the war, the cost of the Government now is not greater in proportion to the number of people than it was in 1860.

Many may think it unnecessary to notice such statements as that put forth by the quid nunc of the Herald, but he appears to be a writer of average Democratic intelligence, and it devolves on us to meet such champions as our opponents have.

The Herald recognizes the constitutional amendments as "accomplished facts," but says that they were forced into the Constitution by fraud and violence. It seems not to perceive how completely it stultifies itself by accepting as law that which was carried by illegal means.

Democrats seem to think that they can make capital for their party by acquiescing in the constitutional amendments. But as the Republicans are the authors of those amendments we rather think they will secure what capital there is to be made out of them.

Anti Departure Democracy.

Most of the Oregon Democratic papers still refuse most resolutely to "depart." We present below a few extracts from the Oregon City Enterprise and Albany Democrat of this week. The first named paper has these:

> The Democratic Convention of California adopted the Ohio platform and accepts the situation. After the election they will be ashamed of it, and will have to accept a humiliating defeat.
> While the "new departure" may at present be popular, it will be equally unpopular, after it meets with the defeat in store for it this fall. Time will show these erring brethren where they have committed a great wrong, and learn them a lesson which they will not soon forget at the next National Convention. With a "new departure" platform and Sherman or Hancock as the candidate, the Democracy have no candidate in the field, and we think there will be found enough honest white men who will place another name before the people to be voted for. And of course, the Democracy will be defeated again by the work of its supposed friends.

This, from the Enterprise will do for the Herald to peruse:

> A friend writes us from Lane county to "go after" the "Improved Radical Discovery," and says that "the Democracy here are dumbfounded. I have not seen a man that endorses either the Ohio platform or the Herald's comments. * * * I thought I ought to give you an encouraging word. So wave your lights. The people are with you. Better be honorably defeated than surrender disgracefully. I wish I had two and a half bushels of gold to put at your command." Our friend need have no fears as to our course in this matter. We have fought the Radicals single-handed and alone in Oregon, when it was anything but profitable to do so, and now when an "Improved Radical Discovery" is attempted to be fastened on the Democracy we are prepared to stand alone in fighting for the principles we have upheld during the past ten years. Though the whole country were to accept what we consider wrong, we are not prepared to surrender. Our past record will be a guarantee for the future. We hold Democratic views upon principle, and not for profit or office.

These are from the Albany Democrat:

> The California Democratic Platform has a Radical head and a Democratic tail, consequently we suppose the members of the State Convention stood on their heads while adopting it.
> As the Radicals have the first and second resolutions on the Democratic platform it is hoped that many of them will view it with a "childlike and bland" feeling, and that it will receive that respect from them which it can hardly expect from Democrats.

The same paper speaks of the "mongrelized, galvanized, sweetbrier platform of Vallandigham," and presents what it calls a "genuine Democratic platform" as an "offset" to it. The hardshell Democracy of Oregon, it is evident, don't intend to "depart" at all.

Chase and Vallandigham.

A dispatch from Dayton (Ohio), published the day after Mr. Vallandigham's death, states that the following letter from Chief Justice Chase was received by Vallandigham a few days after the promulgation of the new departure resolutions:

> WASHINGTON, D. C., May 20, 1870.
> MY DEAR SIR:—I have just read the resolutions of the Montgomery County (Ohio) Democratic Convention, reported by yourself, together with your remarks and those of Mr. Conk. You have rendered a great service to your country and the party—at least such is my judgment. May God bless you for it. Nothing can be truer than your declaration that the movement contemplated by the resolutions is the restoration of the Democratic party to its ancient platform of progress and reform. I know you too well to doubt your courage or your fidelity to your connections.
>
> Very truly yours,
> S. P. CHASE.

Ever since the meeting of the Democratic Convention in New York, in 1868, whereat Vallandigham favored the nomination of Chase, the Chief Justice has been a firm admirer of him, and it is understood they communicated freely upon politics. The obvious course of this new movement is to make Mr. Chase the Democratic candidate for President in 1872. Our Democratic brethren in Oregon who now spew the new departure out of their mouths, may as well begin to get ready to support Chase or some other man of similar antecedents.

The Sacramento Reporter, the Democratic State Organ of California, utterly refuses to support Gov. Haight. It "bolts" the nomination, declares that Haight cannot be elected, and says that in taking this course it has "plenty of company, Democratic company of the best kind."

POLITICAL NOTES.

Here is a little figure of speech from the Richmond Enquirer of late date: "In social and political matters, many seek to gratify their spiteful feelings under an unpleasant environment by nursing the illusion that obstinacy is principle. The course of the world does not suit them, and they refuse to submit to it; and they call their kicking against the sides of the iron leviathan which plows the great ocean of history—Principle.

The Democratic party of Delaware having reiterated its announcement that there is a white man's party, the Wilmington Commercial suggests for their consideration the following No New Departure ticket: For President, Governor Saulsbury, of Delaware; for Vice President, William Saulsbury, of Delaware. Both these gentlemen, it says, (thanks to brother Eli, who is in the United States Senate,) are out of office, and don't accept the situation.

Speaking of one Jefferson Davis, the Montgomery (Ala.) Mail says: "This Southern gentleman needs no watching, for the whole world could not induce him to pass one hair's breadth beyond any obligation he may have assumed, express or implied." Let us see. Was Jefferson Davis the name of a man who several times took an oath to protect and defend the Constitution of the United States? and if so, did he assume any obligation, "express or implied."

It is reasonably clear that General Leslie, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Kentucky, is not one of the departing spirits of the party. In a campaign speech recently he made the following frank confession: "The procuring of these amendments [the 13th, 14th and 15th] was a fraud upon this people, and upon the whole people of the United States. Having been thus obtained, I hold that they ought to be repealed. There may be some Democrats who are not for their repeal, but the great body of our party is for it."

THE LITERAL DOMINIE.—A writer in the Galaxy Club Room says: Rev. Mr. T., of Hartford, stated in my hearing once that he had either heard or read of a clergyman who was so rigidly and frigidly literal, so densely and swinishly unimaginative and matter-of-fact, that he was wholly unable of entertaining or comprehending a newspaper of any kind whatever; and instanced the fact that this clergyman believed to his dying day that Shakspeare's mind was overstrained and confused by too intense application when he wrote that there be

"Sermons in stones,
Books in the running brooks,
And good in everything;"

and contended that it was perfectly plain that what he meant to say was that there be

"Sermons in Books,
Stones in the running brooks,
And good in everything."

They contend in an English court that a man who says "howsomdever" is not a gentleman.

WANTED—A DEMOCRATIC GRIEVANCE.

[From the New York Times]

It is exceedingly touching to observe the persistent fondness with which the Democratic journals cling to the Ku Klux bill as a basis for attack upon the present Administration. They had pretty well exhausted the common missiles of falsehood, and the polysyllabic shafts of the World were, if possible, blunter than usual. The Government had obstinately reduced the taxes without hampering the revenue; the Alabama claims had got themselves in so fair a way for settlement that neither the policy of the President nor that of Mr. Sumner was capable of charging an ordinary political squib. And as for the late amendments, they were fixed in the fundamental law, and not a corporal's guard of Republican voters could be induced to vote the Democratic ticket on the ground that they ought not to be there. At this juncture, the late Mr. Vallandigham made the bright suggestion that it would be well to let old topics alone, "accept the situation" as completely as the nature of the average Democrat would admit, and open fire on the Ku Klux bill. The "conservative" press of New York—it likes to be called "conservative" for two reasons; first, because the word is not in nearly so bad odor as "Democratic"; and, second, because at heart it is not Democratic at all—the conservative press hailed the suggestion as promising great relief.

The bill was a new bill. The people understood its object well enough, but not the details of its provisions. It certainly placed a good deal of power in the hands of Gen. Grant. And it would be much easier to make the public believe that it was everything wicked and dangerous, than it would be to repeat the old arguments long since exploded, the old charges long since become disgusting. So the "conservative" press thought, and so it commenced to act. By liberal use of perversion and misrepresentation, it endeavored to show that the Ku klux bill was a species of coup d'etat, which was preliminary to the appearance of Gen. Grant as "The man on horseback with a naked sword," who was about to suspend the writ of habeas corpus, break up the Courts, summon all offensive Democrats before a drumhead court-martial, and by violence and bloodshed, pave the way to an imperial throne, from which he would issue edicts to an obedient Senate, dissolve the House of Representatives, and govern the country by means of satraps, principally selected from such of his male relations as he did not marry to foreign Princesses. By vigorous lashing, the World worked itself into a very fair imitation of indignation over the terrible picture, and the "bucolic" press, as the World politely dubs its country contemporaries, followed suit as well as they could.

They were all doomed, however, to encounter one very unexpected obstacle. The Ku-klux, without whom the bill must lose all its terrors, immediately on the proclamation by the President of his intention to enforce it to the letter, began to skulk into their hiding places. With an obtuseness of political insight that cannot be too severely condemned, they refused to surrender their blood as the seed of the Democratic church. However effective the application of the law to their cases might be, in firing the Northern and Southern breast against the authors of the law, it would leave them where they could derive but cold comfort from the triumph of the Democracy or any other earthly advantage, and they basely and ingloriously declined, however much their party might gain by it, to become corpses. This, naturally, is discouraging to the political hacks who were laboring to make political capital out of the oppressive operation of the law. If no chance is to be given to suspend the writ of habeas corpus, if the innocent murderers and ruffians at whose personal rights under the Constitution the law was aimed, persistently kept out of its range, why it will be very hard work to keep up a very animated fire at the mere abstract letter of the law. The American people are a very busy set, and they have a great deal too much to do to waste time in arguing over an enactment which bids fair to be a dead letter through its very effectiveness, to restrain the liberties of no one, because all keep out of its way, and to lead to no abuse of power, because there arises no occasion to exercise power over it.

We cannot undertake to help our Democratic contemporaries in this quandary. It all comes of being on the wrong side. They have lately seemed to have a realizing sense of this fact, and their last step was in the direction of a complete change. Perhaps they may take it into their heads to come all the way over. It is probably the only means to relieve themselves of their present embarrassment. As for the change it would require in their attitude toward men and measures, that is not worth a second thought, in the case of the World, at least, which eighteen months since denounced Mr. Tweed as a thief and a swindler, and now bedaubs with adulation everything about him, down to the very diamonds on his daughter's wedding shoes.

> So the farce ended, though the faces of many in the court room showed indignation that could not be spoken. We have the rest of a lifetime after to-day to do justice to the subject, and we shall sedulously and fearlessly treat of it as it deserves.
>
> The balance of this article we devote to the earlier stages of the game.
>
> We assert here that this cowardly attack of Watkinds on Clarke was planned beforehand, and that he did the act under instructions. He told Asahel Bush afterwards that if it had not been for him he would not have done it, or words to that effect. We hear also that he has acknowledged that he was "a d—d fool to allow any one to influence him to do such a thing." We leave it for the Governor to explain how it happened that Watkinds went from his office to undertake the job, and why the private Secretary of the Executive walked with him from the office to the spot. We also know that an instrument of the ring was around predicting, while Watkinds was waiting patiently his time, that Clarke was about to get his deserts, or words to that effect. It was also a singular coincidence that the ambush was placed in front of the bank windows, and a choice few, including Upton, of the Mercury, saw it from that convenient spot. These things we believe to be all as suggested, for proof seems to be conclusive. We have some satisfaction in knowing that this infamy was defeated, even if there was no justice to be procured to punish it.
> We submit this to the public as a statement of facts we believe to be true and reliable. Justice has been made a mockery. The assassin of the infamous Salem Ring pays a trifling fine for an attempt to murder, and they chuckle over their success, but it lays with the people to right this wrong in due season.

DIED:

Of consumption, near Wapato, June 29, 1871, John E. Davis, youngest son of Joseph and Lucy Davis.

Deep is the sorrow of the mourning parents and friends of the departed, whose older brother they had buried just four weeks earlier; but they mourn not as those without hope. They are prepared to join in the following words:

"He gave thee, He took thee and He will restore thee, And death has no sting for the Savior hath died."

INTERESTING LETTER FROM SCOTLAND.—Mr. O. S. Phelps hands us the following letter with permission to publish:

DUNDEE, June 6th, 1871.

O. S. PHELPS, ESQ., PORTLAND, OREGON, U. S. AMERICA—DEAR SIR: I read your letter in the People's Journal some time ago, giving a very good description of the State of Oregon. In a short time afterwards there appeared a letter from a party who signed himself "Kolando," in Morayshire, making the following statement: "If we many men were rich, as we are not, we would stay at home; and as we are poor, we are forced to do it. But if the new State would lend a helping hand to grant free passages, then Brother Jonathan would prove himself indeed a brother; but as it is, it's only in voice." Now, in order to meet his requirements I have formed a club here called "The Scottish Emigration Club," as you will observe by the newspaper and copy of rules I have sent you, and if he is anxious to get out to your State I hope he will avail himself of the [illegible] of this scheme.

As soon as the plans of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company are completed I expect to get an appointment to act as Commissioner here for the sale of their lands in the States of Minnesota, [illegible] Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon, when I shall be glad to send farmers, farm [illegible], &c., to your State.

I have a number of applications from parties of all trades and professions for situations in America, amongst those I have at present are [illegible] or overseers, factory or warehouse [illegible], ship builders and managers, clerks, [illegible] also a horse, cattle, or fruit dealer. If there [illegible] in your State for these parties I can send them out at once.

I shall also be glad to learn of any employers requiring servants, male or female, at the same time stating rates of wages, &c.; they can also state if they would be willing to assist the servants in paying their passages to Oregon, as I know there are very few who have the funds at hand to take them so far inland from Quebec, New York or Baltimore.

Shall be glad to have a reply at your earliest [illegible], with any information you may deem [illegible] for my guidance in sending out emigrants. A newspaper occasionally from your State would be very much appreciated by

Yours very respectfully,
JAS. M'G. MELVILLE.

CELEBRATION AT EAST PORTLAND.—The following is the programme of exercises for to-morrow at East Portland:

[illegible] will commence at 1 o'clock P. M. in the Portland Park.

Prayer by Rev. John Rosenberg.

Music.

[illegible] by Hon. J. H. Mitchell.

Poem by S. L. Simpson.

The procession from Portland will be escorted to the Park at 12½ o'clock from East Portland ferry landing.

THE LATE FAIR.—The State Horticultural Fair closed at noon on Saturday, having been an [illegible] success so far as the exhibition was concerned. We are sorry to learn, however, that [illegible] were below the expenses and that the Society will have an indebtedness on hand. This will not be large, it is true, but there ought to have been none at all created. This fair was an experiment, and as is usually the case, a few people had to work it up alone. The average people of the world stand off and look, merely, upon new experimental enterprises, but success brings friends and helpers. The managers of the fair, therefore, may confidently count upon plenty of help next year. The accounts are not yet adjusted, and the amount of the deficit cannot be stated.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH AT VANCOUVER.—Under the energetic administration of Bishop Morris, church edifices for the use of Protestant Episcopal congregations are springing up in numerous places within his jurisdiction. The Congregation of St. Luke's Church in Vancouver contemplate the erection of a new church edifice this year, the corner stone to be laid about the 13th day of August next by Bishop Morris. It is to be built on the block owned by the church, whereon the Rectory is now situated. It is to have a spire over one hundred feet in hight, and is to be built in the Gothic style with all the modern improvements.

THE ORATORIO.—Oro Fino was crowded to its fullest capacity Saturday evening upon the occasion of the closing rendition of the cantata of [illegible]. The singers seemed, with one or two exceptions, to perform with less spirit than on [illegible] evening, but the affair went off smoothly and the auditors were delighted. By his very [illegible] management of this entertainment, Mr. McGibeny has firmly established his reputation as an efficient musical director.

STEAMSHIP AND RAILROAD OFFICES.—The offices of the N. P. T. Co. were removed on Saturday to the new building at the foot of F street, [illegible] erected expressly for that purpose. [illegible] are not only handsome but large airy [illegible]. Their proximity to the ferry [illegible] steamship dock will be found a great [illegible] not only to the attaches of the offices, but to shipper and travelers, generally.

EXCURSION TO OREGON CITY.—The Senator will leave the P. T. Co.'s wharf to-morrow morning at half past 7 o'clock, for Oregon City, and will return in the evening, for the accommodation of persons wishing to attend the celebration at Oregon City. The big blasts on the west side of the river will be worth the going to see. The fare for the round trip will be only 50 cents—cheaper than to stay at home.

MINSTRELS.—Morrell's combination of "Star Artistes"—late of California—will appear at Oro Fino Theater this evening and to-morrow evening in a programme of minstrel songs, jokes, choruses, burlesques, character personations, etc. Cherry Belle, the "Queen of Mystery" will introduce several tricks of legerdemain. After all, it seems Miss Cora is not the "only female magician in the world."

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—About twenty teachers and others interested in common school education, held a meeting at the Central school-house on Friday and Saturday, and had discussions upon the best methods of instruction. It is understood that another meeting will be held during the vacation of the schools.

PARLOR SKATING.—The proprietors of the skating pavilion are not making much noise about their place of amusement, but their exchequer must show pretty well, if we may judge by the number of patrons they have. There is always a merry throng there, and on band nights, especially, the hall is crowded.

RUNAWAY.—Last Friday evening Mr. Thomas [illegible] and wife, while driving home on the macadamized road, had the misfortune to be thrown out of their wagon by the horses taking fright and running away. Mr. Stephens received [illegible] injury and his wife was considerably bruised.

RECOVERING.—The Vancouver Register says: "The [illegible] of the Oneonta who met with an accident and had his arm amputated, is staying at the St. Joseph's Hospital in this city, and we are glad to learn that he is improving and will soon be able to go out."

VERY HOT.—For the last four or five days, the weather has been very warm indeed, the average standing of the mercury in the afternoon being about 85°. Yesterday it was something higher than that.

GOING TO SALEM.—The boys of No. 2 Engine [illegible] are going to Salem to celebrate to-morrow, and will take their steamer along. We acknowledge a polite invitation to accompany them. They will, no doubt, have a pleasant excursion.

FERRY LICENSE WANTED.—On Saturday a petition was in circulation, and was generally signed, for a ferry right between the foot of N street, East Portland, and Jefferson street on this side.

A WALKER.—It is said that a noted pedestrian who has walked his hundred and ten consecutive hours, has lately arrived in this city, and that he will soon "take a walk."

PERSONAL.

Hon. S. Garfielde, M. C., for Washington Territory is expected soon to arrive home on a visit to his constituents

The Rev. John McCarty, D. D., for a long time stationed at Fort Vancouver as Post Chaplain, U. S. A., but for the last two years a resident of Hampton Roads, Va., started on the 19th ult. to revisit this coast. He intends to spend a few days at Omaha and may be expected to arrive here about the 8th inst.

Capt. Wm. Dierdorff, late Grand Master of the I. O. O. F. of Oregon, is lying very ill at his residence in this city. Strong hopes of his recovery are, however, entertained.

Prof. T. H. Crawford, Principal of the North School of this city is going to spend a month or two of the vacation in the country in Linn County.

Judge L. O. Sterns of Baker City, formerly a State Senator, is in this city on route to Salem, on business.

Judge McArthur of the 5th Judicial District is expected to arrive here by the Cascades boat this afternoon.

THE COURTS.

SATURDAY, July 1, 1871.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.—H. C. Dray vs E. Burk et als.; demurrer to answer of Burk overruled, and plaintiff given until the 5th inst. to reply.

In the matter of E. W. Carlisle for writ of habeas corpus, petitioner was discharged from custody.

Wrenn vs J. A. Fisher; suit for ejectment; motion to strike out part of the complaint overruled, and defendant given ten days to answer.

George H. Durham vs J. A. Fisher; same as above.

In the matter of Reinhart & Overholt for damages against the Dalles Military Wagon Road Company, jury returned a verdict of $631.57 for plaintiffs.

AMUSEMENTS.

MORRELL'S COMBINATION of star artists have arrived and will appear Monday and Tuesday evenings—July 3d and 4th—at the Oro Fino Theater for two nights only. Their entertainment is said to be chaste and refined, and its absence of vulgarity has gained for it a very desirable reputation. We would especially recommend this fact to the attention of the ladies. Admission to all parts of the house 50 cents. Children half price.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The Umatilla House at the Dalles has been re-opened by Messrs. Handley & Sinnott. Great changes has been effected in its departments.

DEEDS FILED FOR RECORD.

SATURDAY, July 1, 1871.

Joseph Teal et ux. to B. Goldsmith, $1, quitclaim to 160 acres from Alanson F. Matteson, section 26, township 1 north, range 1 west.

LOADING FOR A COASTING CRUISE.—The U. S. lighthouse steamer Shubrick is taking in stores at Astoria, for a cruise to Tillamook, Shoalwater Bay, and Puget Sound, having completed which, she will return to San Francisco. She has recently taken up the spar buoys in the river near Astoria, and planted iron ones.

I. O. O. F. AT VANCOUVER.—The officers of Vancouver Lodge No. 3, for the term beginning July 1st, are C. A. Freeman, N. G.; G. W. Brownmiller, V. G.; R. W. Downing, R. S.; J. A. Ort, Per. Secretary; S. D. Maxon, Treasurer. They will be installed this evening by G. T. McConnell, D. D. G. M.

GOVERNMENT SURVEYS.—Mr. J. B. David, Deputy Surveyor in the United States Department service, has just returned from an expedition of seventy-five days in Eastern Oregon, during which time, with a corps of eight men, he surveyed the lines of seven townships.

COLLECTION DAY.—Saturday was a pretty fair "collection day" at the Police Court-room. Judge Denny took in over one hundred dollars in fines and costs.

PLEASANT DAY.—The children and friends o St. Stephen's Chapel Sunday School had a very pleasant picnic on Saturday at East Portland Park.

ARRIVAL OF THE LIVE YANKEE.—This vessel arrived at Kalama on Saturday. She has a part cargo of railroad material for the N. P. R. R. Co.

NO QUORUM.—There was no quorum of Delegates at the regular meeting Saturday night. Is public spirit frozen out?

How We Used to be Physicked.

Who does not remember the time when spring purgation was considered indispensable to summer health? No matter for wry faces, the inevitable salts and senna, rhubarb, or calomel and jalap, must be administered. These "spring medicines," the youngsters were told, were to keep them hale and hearty during the summer. We all know now that this was a fallacy; that new vigor, not depletion, is what is required at the commencement of the summer solstice. As a preparation for the enervating effects of oppressive summer weather, a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is highly expedient. This famous vegetable preparation has three prominent properties: It renovates, purifies and regulates all the functions of the body. It is composed exclusively of pure vegetable productions, viz: the essential principle of Monongahela Rye, and the most efficacious tonic and alterative roots, barks and gums known to medical botanists. Hence, it is an absolutely safe medicine, and no tincture of the Pharmacopœia can compare with it either in purity or in the variety of its objects, and its comprehensive results. Happily for mankind, the theory that it was necessary to prostrate a patient in order to cure him is forever exploded, and the true philosophical doctrine, that vigor is the great antagonist of disease, has taken its place. Hostetter's Bitters is an invigorant, and hence it is the proper medicine for the feeble at this most trying season of the year.

Be sure that you obtain the genuine article, as there are innumerable vile imitations in the market. Look to the ornamental stamp, the engraved label, and the name blown into the glass. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles only.

A HOUSEHOLD BLESSING.

One that no family should be without. Very warming, very penetrating, very strengthening, very effective. A never-failing remedy for Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Pleurisy, Sore Throat, Colic, Cramps, Cholera Morbus, Swellings, Stiff Joints, Sprains, Bruises, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Pain in the Breast, Lame Back and all Lameness and Pain. Such is PRATT'S ABOLITION OIL. Price, large, $1 00; small, 50 cents. For sale by all druggists. Ask for PRATT'S ABOLITION OIL, and take no substitute.

PRATT'S NEW LIFE

The famous Vegetable Blood Purifier and Liver Invigorator, thoroughly purifies the Blood, speedily cures Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Heals old sores and ulcers and eradicates from the system all humors and disorders arising from impure blood. Agents for the Sale of Blocks and Lots in

HOLLADAY'S ADDITION
TO East Portland!

TO OUR PATRONS AND THE PUBLIC GENERALLY desiring to make SAFE and RELIABLE Investments in Real Property, we beg leave at this time to call your attention to this DESIRABLE TRACT, which has been subdivided into Blocks and Lots, and is now in the Market, to be sold in Alternate Lots and Blocks.

No one that has ever visited this body of Land but what will say that it is the MOST ELIGIBLE for SUBURBAN RESIDENCES of any ever offered in this market, the land having a gradual slope from the River back to SEVENTEENTH STREET, there being scarcely any Block in the entire tract but what a

Fair View of the City of Portland and Willamette River

Can be had. Another advantage this Property will have for Residences: no high water will ever affect the drainage of the city.

The Oregon and California Railroad Company's New Ferry Boat is now making Regular Trips from the Foot of F street, Couch's Addition, to the Foot of Oregon street, Holladay's Addition.

IMPROVEMENTS TO BE MADE:

Aside from gigantic Improvements now in contemplation by the Railroad Company, in the construction of Wharves, Warehouses and Machine Shops, quite a number of citizens will commence erecting fine Residences and Business Houses; also, Street improvements, under contract, by grading and planking Holladay Avenue its entire length, to connect with the Sandy Road. We can say that at least a Half Million Dollars will be expended in Permanent Improvements on this Addition the present season.

TERMS OF SALE—40 per cent. CASH down; deferred payments, six and twelve months, with interest at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum.

NO QUESTION AS TO TITLE

The Title to this property is undisputed, being a portion of the Donation Land Claim of Jacob Wheeler and wife. United States Patent issued, and conveyed by said Wheeler and Wife to Geo. W. Weidler.

Parties desiring to invest will find Maps and Plats of the property at our Office, or at the Office of Messrs. FERRY, RUSSELL & WOODWARD, and other LAND AGENCIES in the city.

MILLS SEMINARY.

REV. C. T. MILLS AND WIFE, FOR the past six years Principals of the Young Ladies Seminary at Benicia, are happy to announce to their patrons and friends, that the next term of this well known Institution, will open

Wednesday, August 2, 1871,

In their New, Commodious and Beautiful Building, just completed at SEMINARY PARK, BROOKLYN.

As most of the able and experienced corps of Teachers, with valuable accessions, as well as the fine classes of pupils now pursuing their studies remove with them, the School remains essentially unchanged with greatly increased facilities for physical comfort and intellectual culture without additional expense. Mr. and Mrs. Mills believe they can accomplish much more for their pupils in the future than they have been able to do in the past, and that this Institution offers unrivalled advantages for a thorough and finished education.

All communications relating to admission and all letters of inquiry should be addressed to

"Johnny, what do you expect to do for a living when you get to be a man?" "Well, I reckon I'll get married and board with my wife's mother."

An Iowa school teacher has been dismissed for kissing the big girls. The girls say that the School Board had no right to interfere with their studies in that way.

According to Chicago papers, "Long John Wentworth" has a new and fine breed of sheep partaking of the qualities both of Mary's little lamb and the battering ram.

A young fellow who has been in Salt Lake City about a year, writes to say that any number of young Mormon girls have offered to elope with him. He adds that the girls are all down on polygamy and want Gentile husbands.

"You here, Jenkins! How the deuce did you find your way out?" "Find my way out! Out of where? What do you mean?" "Why, the last I saw of you you were lost—in slumber." "Oh—ah; well, I rode out on a night mare!"

A physician of Springfield was hurriedly called away from the dinner-table recently by a messenger, who made the following request: "There has a feller fell into a drain and got drownded, and we've got the water outen of him, and now want you to come and get the mud out what's into 'im."

A Remarkable Story from Virginia.

There is now depending in the Circuit Court of Giles county, a prosecution full of strange and uncommon incidents. About the 1st of November 1868, an old gentleman named Webb died, near Simmonsville, in Craig county, leaving eight children. By will, however, he devised his entire real estate, worth some $3,000, to one of his sons named [illegible], who was living with him at the time, and appointed Daniel Huffman, one of his sons-in-law, who lived near him, his executor. The executor was directed to sell certain personal property and divide the proceeds rateably among his daughters, seven in number, except one, whom he cut off. On the 16th of November following, the devisee, William Webb, left his house, saying he was going to meet two men at the Glades—a piece of woodland filled with oak and underbrush, [illegible] with [illegible] young woman [illegible] had no family in Virginia [illegible] several children in the [illegible] to [illegible] dinner and make some [illegible] out. W[illegible] passed [illegible] brother-in-law, Daniel Huffman [illegible] to the Glades. Webb has not been seen or heard of since that morning.

The young woman finding that he did not return gave no alarm early next morning, and expressed the belief that Webb had been murdered. The report spread like wild fire through the neighborhood, thickly settled at this place, and the fact that the day was drizzly and foggy, and that pistol shots, in quick succession had been heard by a neighbor in the Glades, gave credence to their unnatural suspicions. But Webb being a man of singular habits, no steps were taken at that time to ferret out the matter. A few days after this a man named Pierson, one of the subscribing witnesses, presented the will in court, which was proven and admitted to record, Huffman qualifying as executor. On the evening of the same day that Webb left, however, Huffman and his wife went to Webb's house and took possession of the primises, Huffman claiming to have bought out Webb's interest there.

[illegible] on many rumors and reports [illegible] speculation, until finally the whole people became terrible excited. In December a deputation of citizens, under authority of the court, made a search for Webb's remains—a search fruitless indeed, but well calculated [illegible] the conduct of Huffman and his [illegible] to add fuel to the flame of excitement.

[illegible] demanded of Huffman to tell where Webb was, and by what authority he claimed his property. Huffman expressed the belief that Webb had gone West, and stated that he held writings from Webb, conveying his land, for $[illegible]—$430 of which was paid in cash, the balance to be paid in four years, but that the papers had been sent to a lawyer to [illegible]. The day being cold and snowy the citizens dispersed late in the evening, having agreed to meet again in a few days to renew the search. The next meeting was on the 1st of January, 1869. They then again [illegible] Huffman's papers, Huffman then [illegible] of those present to his house, and sure enough there was the title deed signed by W. W. Webb himself, and two of his sons as subscribing witnesses, and also Webb's receipt for $430.

Again baffled, the matter was dropped for a few weeks. A warrant was however, taken out for Webb's brother; Huffman and his two sons were arrested and tried for the murder of W. W. Webb. Of course the Commonwealth failed to make out a case. The next step was a warrant arresting Daniel Huffman and his two sons upon the charge of forgery. The charge sets up that Huffman and his sons forged the name of W. W. Webb to the deed of November 10th, 1868, and also the receipt for $430, and upon this charge they are now being tried.

Since writing the above, I learn that the Commonwealth has again entirely failed to make out a case of forgery against Daniel Huffman, who was separately tried; that the jury found him not guilty, and that a nolle prosequi was entered as to the two boys. Thus has ended one of the romances in real life that one scarcely meets with in an age.

[From the Louisville Ledger.]

We hear of a somewhat novel surgical operation recently performed by Dr. E. R. Hawn, of Leavenworth, Indiana. A young man named Murchison, living in Meade county, Ky., met with a terrible accident while working in a saw-mill, by means of which a piece of skin as large as the bottom of a tin cup was torn from his hip. Dr. Hawn was called to the case. Knowing the extreme difficulty experienced by surgeons in getting injuries of this kind to heal properly; the doctor was at a loss how to proceed. It is well known that when a large surface of skin has been removed the cure is tedious and difficult to accomplish. Nothing but skin will produce a new skin, and the exposed surface will not heal further than an inch from the margin, after which the edges must be trimmed again and a new growth started, the operation being repeated as often as necessary, until the entire surface is covered and the cure effected. Not wishing to subject his patient to this tedious and painful process, Dr. H. resolved to try the experiment of engraftation. His first idea was to take small bits of live skin from various other parts of the body and graft them on the exposed surface, but the patient objected, on account of the pain attending the skinning process, and the multitude of small sore places which would be left. The Doctor then suggested that a portion of the skin of some inferior animal might be used, and the patient readily consented. A rat, about two-thirds grown, was caught, killed, and quickly skinned, after which the Doctor cut a piece of the requisite size, trimmed it to suit the exposed surface, clapped it on, and fastened it with strips of adhesive plaster, after which the whole surface was covered with a coating of collodion. The experiment succeeded beyond the most sanguine expectations. The graft took by first intention, and in ten days the cure was complete.

The surface of the wound is covered with a fine growth of hair, and the rat skin seems to answer every purpose. The only inconvenience to which Mr. Murchison is subjected is on account of the cats. On several occasions, when sitting down reading, he has been put to no little alarm and some inconvenience by having the house cat spring suddenly on him and fasten her teeth in that portion of his pantaloons which immediately covers the transplanted rat skin. The terriers also, sniff suspiciously at his heels when he walks the streets.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Democrats of California are inquiring of each other: Did Gov. Haight pay for Senator Burnett's monument out of the secret service fund? and is there an inscription upon the monument setting forth that it was erected by the Governor of the State, as a tribute of respect and esteem for a faithful public servant and a steadfast friend?

A Democratic paper in Kentucky refuses to recognise any necessity for the organs of the new departure to disturb the grave of the Confederacy. It says that, however necessary it may be for the Northern Democracy to accept the principles of the radical party, there is no reason in the world why journals professedly Democratic should play the jackal and dig up a dead buried cause in order to heap insult and contumely upon those who fought in its support.

All orders from the Interior, Oregon and Washington Territory, or any place on the Pacific Coast, attended to with promptness and dispatch.

Mr. SIMS appreciates the past liberal patronage of his friends, and trusts he may continue to merit it in the future. For the information of strangers he would say that he feels confident that his experience in his particular calling is surpassed by none on this coast, which his superior work, sent to almost every town in California, Oregon, Victoria, and Sandwich Islands, and to be seen on some of the best buildings of San Francisco fully attest.

Also—A very large lot of Second Hand Shutters, of various dimensions, all for sale at very low rates.

Mr. E. M. BURTON, Portland Oregon, will forward orders for work of all kinds free of charge.

There are Four Courses of Study, to meet the wants of all who have advanced beyond the completion of an English education.

The next term begins September 1, 1871.

The completion of the Willamette Valley Railroad to Forest Grove will soon make the Institution accessible from all parts of the Valley.

The location is beautiful and salubrious. Saloons are excluded by provisions in the deeds which give title to the lands.

The Apparatus and the Collections in the Department of Natural History are considerable and are constantly increasing.

The Library numbers about 5 000 volumes.

To meet a long felt necessity, the President, by an enlargement of his house, has made provision for boarding young ladies.

Board, including furnished rooms, fuel and lights, $4.00 per term of 13 weeks.

Rev. C. M. Blake will open a Home and Training School for boys, at Forest Grove, sending his pupils to the Academy for class instruction. Terms, including board and tuition, $300 per school year.

Tuition, from $24 to $32 per year.

Young men can board themselves, or obtain board at from $3 to $4 per week.

For particulars address the President. 32,6m
